

After faithfully serving the people of Calvary Community Church in Longview, WA, for more than a decade, our current Youth Pastor is planning to embark on a new ministry endeavor before long. As a result, Calvary Community Church is looking for a new Youth Pastor. The youth ministry at Calvary is well-established, with more than 70 middle and high school students attending our midweek youth nights, and many committed volunteers helping in a variety of capacities. The new Youth Pastor will therefore be responsible for all aspects of a healthy, thriving youth ministry, including regular Wednesday night youth meetings, seasonal outings, and youth camps conducted during the summer. This is a full time position.

The ideal applicant will agree with Calvary Community Church's evangelical statement of faith, will have a bachelor's degree, will have a strong background in the Bible, and will have at least some ministry experience.

More information about Calvary Community Church can be found at our webpage, <http://calvarylv.org>, and our statement of faith specifically can be found here: <http://calvarylv.org/about-us/what-we-believe>. Information on Longview, WA, can be found here: <http://www.mylongview.com>.

Interested individuals are encouraged to submit their resumes, along with a brief cover letter, to Pastor Eugene Curry at eugene@calvarylv.org.
